SocietyTo Wedding.

Mrs. Husted Brownfield went to Clarksburg today, where she will attend the marriage this evening of Miss Mary Lena Bartlett to Mr. Lloyd Maxwell Graves and of Miss Evelyn Meigs Bartlett to Mr. Boyd Fleming, which events will be consummated in a brilliant double wedding this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of Dr. and Mrs. M. J. Bartlett. The marriage will be followed by a large reception.

Christmas Sale.

Some time during next week, the exact date to be announced later, the Vigilant Circle of King's Daughters of the M. P. Temple will hold a Christmas Sale of hand-made articles in the sun parlors of the residence of Mr. E. C. Frame on Main street. The proceeds will be donated to charitable purposes.

Entertained Club.

Mrs. Charles Michaels is entertaining the Young Married Women's Club this afternoon at their home on Club street.

Masonic Assembly.

The Masonic Assembly Hall was the scene of a brilliant event last night when Crusade Commandery No. 6, Knights Templar were hosts at an elaborate reception and dance. Invitations were issued some time ago for the event and the guests included a number from out of the city. The assembly hall was elaborately decorated for the event, a feature of the decorations being an illuminated Maltese Cross, the Templar emblem. Wreaths of holly, southern holly, intermingled with scarlet poinsettias, were banked about the walls and hung from the chandeliers. Past Eminent Commanders and their ladies, composing an informal reception committee, mingled with the guests during the hours of the reception.

The Cadenza orchestra from Clarksburg rendered a programme of dance music of twelve numbers and extras. Card tables were arranged in an adjoining room, which were occupied by devotees of auction during the evening. The musical programme was as follows:

Christmas Sales.

The U. A. Clayton Class of the Presbyterian Church will hold a sale of Christmas goods on Saturday at Robt. Snider's grocery. They will have an attractive line of hand-made articles, and also good things to eat.

Christmas Card Sale.

The Presbyterian Legion will have on sale on next Saturday a line of Christmas post cards in the South Side Pharmacy and Martin's Drug Store.

A Linen Shower.

Honoring the recent marriage of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Harris, some of the young people of Fairmont gave a linen shower on last Thursday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. and Mrs. Feather, of Maryland avenue.

The evening was very delightfully spent in social conversation and also music, which was rendered by Miss

EAST PARK BIBLE CLASS.

Don't miss the meeting of the Bible class at the East Park school house Thursday evening at 7:30. No matter how much it rains a large crowd will be there and a helpful and entertaining program will be given. The chief features of the program will be some special music, a recitation, a round table discussion following the lesson. The committee's work which is the secret of the success of the class you should hear their reports. Short addresses along the thought of the lesson will be made by Mr. Wm. Hawkins, Mr. E. C. Curry and Mr. Hansford. Remember the hour, 7:30. Everybody welcome.

A soap bubble tournament and social will be held tomorrow evening in the social room of the Diamond Street M. E. church. A very interesting and pleasant evening of fun is promised, with prizes being awarded to the winners of the contest.

A small admission fee of 10 cents will be charged and everybody is cordially invited to be present.

After the contests, refreshments will be served and a general social hour enjoyed.

WENT TO MORGANTOWN.

After the finish of the preliminary hearing of R. L. Cunningham yesterday in this city, C. H. Watkins, of Wheeling, secretary of the State Board of Embalmers, and Attorneys Watkins, of Wheeling, and Treve Nutter, of Fairmont, left for Morgantown on business connected with the Embalmers' Association.

The trip of the trio to the Monongahela county city is said to have been similar to their mission here, and had to do with an alleged violation of the law by a Morgantown undertaker.

Everything Is In Readiness For Big Time

NOBLES OF MYSTIC SHRINE WILL HAVE A GREAT CEREMONIAL SESSION.

TRUSTY ARABS WILL HAVE SHARPENED THEIR TEETH FOR FRESH MEAT.

Everything is in readiness for the big ceremonial session of Nemesis Temple, Ancient and Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, which will be held in Clarksburg Thursday, December 10. A large crowd of Nobles from Fairmont, Morgantown and Grafton and intermediate points will be in attendance. Don't forget the special car which leaves the station of the Monongahela Valley Traction Company at 2 o'clock sharp. The special will reach Clarksburg in time for the parade at 3 o'clock, when the caravan will be formed at the Masonic Temple and after circling the war zone seven times will return to the place whence it came and then and there Oriental and ordinarily, duly and dutifully confer bruises and blessings, cuts and caresses, damages and delights, excitement and ecstasy, fire and fun, freeze and frolic, gloom and gladness, hurts and happiness, jolts and joys, pain and pleasure, smarts and smiles, and everything else they can think of, on all who come within their reach.

The trusty Arabs of Nemesis Temple have been sharpening their teeth for the fresh meat, and was unto all those who go that way, for a very they will be done brown, and though they think they are red ripe they will find that they have only grown green, and before they are through they will be black and blue.

A long, loud low-toned, rumbling sound, mingled with wierd wallings, in a high crescendo, has been heard afar off and Potentate I. Wade Coffman has interpreted it as the cry of the unregenerate, who are clamoring to join the caravan and traverse the hot sands of the desert.

The Shrine is a secret order with but few mysteries. It is secret, not that it has aught to conceal, but simply chooses its own associates and have a way of distinguishing and separating them from the "general run." We are one big family of brothers. Our membership is composed of the best citizens, upright, law-abiding fathers, husbands, sons and brothers, all of them Masons in good standing. Our love and respect for the order is a sufficient guarantee of its honest and good purpose. A Shriner believes that it is better to be happy than sorrowful, better to be cheerful than miserable, and in doing all we can to help a brother cast off the cares of life. Lay aside your business cares for a day and attend this ceremonial; see the novices get what you received and assist in giving it to them. The candidates are warned not to pay any attention to the scenery, all is not gold that glitters. They should not be discouraged. Jonah came out all right. They should not kick, the camel is trained to do it and he might get sore. Every novice is given his choice of being taken home or to a hospital. If they get hurt they will tell nobody, but be thankful they are alive. They are especially warned in crossing the desert to try to avoid the quicksands. If they flounder their only hope is to hold on to the rope. After all is said and done this is only dope for the novice. Do everything you are told to do, and hold to the rope.

"Who met me with outstretched hand, As I wearily trudged the burning sand, Who gave me cheer for the Kentucky brand."

Nobody.

Who rushed forth from cool retreat, And sheltered me from the sweltering heat?

Who helped to heal my blistered feet?

Nobody.

Who filled me up with Shriner dope, And bade me be cheerful and full of hope;

Who greased my pants with slimy soap, Then gave me a kick as I slid the slope;

The whole d—d outfit.
